

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and apparatus for repairing soft tissue through a less invasive procedure. Generally, a single shaft instrument is provided to allow for the drilling of a non-linear path into bone to facilitate tissue repair. An arthroscope can be used to monitor the procedure. Thus, smaller incisions can be made to repair soft tissues.